Director, ASB President Greet Freshman Class At Welcoming Assembly

By RAY CLUFF

Opening the "get acquainted" assembly last Tuesday, Bob Lunsford, recently elected ASB president, delivered his welcoming address to the new Alpha class, the essence of which was to familiarize the freshmen with the friendly and high spirited atmosphere that is ever present on the Monarch campus. When introducing Valley's director, Lunsford remarked, "He's been our inspiration. He's been our friend. He's worked with us. He's helped us. He's been everything we could ask for in a college director!"

Dr. Vierling Kersey, director of Valley, congratulated the pioneer members of the school on their accomplishments and welcomed the newcomers with his characteristic enthusiasm.

He also emphasized the necessity of "licking the old 'bugaboo' of indecision" for students without definite aspirations.

Mike Seeger, ASB vice president, related some of the "exciting" experiences in store for the frosh members of the student body.

"It will be to your best advantage to wear your frosh hats," Seeger remarked with a sadistic smirk on his face and continued solemnly, "it will help to identify you, if you desire assistance from the Knights."

Mrs. Nena Royer and Mr. Walter Coultas, assistant directors, spoke respectively on the friendliness of Valley and of the importance of attending classes on the adult basis.

Knights Serve College During Registration Days

The Knights' service organization assisted with registration and contributed to the smoothness with which it was handled. Three committees have also been appointed to help work out details of the organization.

Committee At Work

Norm Blaha, vice president, is developing a merit system; Dick Reynolds was appointed sergeant-at-arms; Cappy Slade, Everett Moore and Jim Smith will confer with Dr. Vierling Kersey on the purposes, reasons and activities of the Knights; Duke Jackels, Larry Grismer and Pat Flaherty are drawing up forms for membership applications; Bill Wells, Dean Reddick and Jim Smith are members of the lending library committee consulting with Mr. John Tatum concerning plans to lend books to students who cannot afford to purchase them.

The symphonic orchestra will meet on Monday evenings from 7 until 10 p. m. Mr. Caliguiri reports that he will welcome day students as instrumentalists. The orchestra is accredited for two units on university transfer.

The mixed chorus will meet

Go To Harbor

Valley's casaba team goes to Harbor J. C. this Friday at 8 p. m. Go to 1111 Figueroa St., Wilmington, where you will be directed to the gym which is about one mile from the campus.

Let's have a big turnout of Monarchs and show our team that we are behind them 100 per cent.

LUNSFORD OUTLINES BUSY TERM

By Bob Lunsford

(Editor's Note: The Valley Star requested Bob Lunsford, student body president, to outline his plans for the student body during the coming semester.)

It is a privilege to be elected to serve you as your president, and it is the intention of myself and cabinet to keep your interests foremost. We shall keep you informed of the progress being made in our council work. Here are some of the goals toward which we are working:

I. Bring student government back to the students by keeping the students aware of what the council is doing, where the money is and what it is being used for.

II. Develop a working understanding between the administration and student government.

III. Promote the Inter-Organization Council for the benefit and betterment of all on-campus organizations. Its purpose will be to coordinate activities, encourage formation of service organizations and bring about unity, yet meet the diversity of individual needs.

IV. Provide a system for assemblies and make them interesting and entertaining.

V. Derive a balance between academic and social activities. Toward this purpose we will give the students all the dances they want with the funds we have for that purpose and encourage on-campus groups to sponsor more social activities.

Enrollment Hits 805 on Third Day; Precounseling and Organization Smooth Registration for Monarchs

"The smoothest and fastest enrollment I have ever seen," became the concensus of opinion concerning Valley College's enrollment on Monday and Tuesday.

Mr. Walter Coultas, assistant director, devised the procedure which facilitated the registration of 651 day students and 154 evening students. There was none of the tedious waiting in line characteristic of last fall, when approximately half as many enrollees were counseled.

Dr. James Dodson checked transcripts and credits, Mr. Donald Prismon handled veteran's affairs, and members of the faculty assisted with the personal counseling. Over 550 individuals were counseled and programmed prior to the regular enrollment on Monday and Tuesday, so the line which formed after Tuesday's assembly disappeared rapidly.

The Knights service club offered assistance and guidance, and women from the coronets and the commercial class, helped at the desks.

Mr. Coultas revealed that new sections will be opened as soon as 35 students enroll in any one class so that each person can receive individual attention.

COLLEGE TO HAVE TWELVE NEW INSTRUCTORS THIS SEMESTER

Twelve new instructors have been added to the Valley College faculty for the spring semester. Each has been carefully selected to meet the particular needs of Valley, Dr. Kersey states. He says that they are well qualified for the positions for which they have been chosen and, moreover, that they are the kind of people who will enjoy and become part of the fine school spirit that characterizes the Valley College student body.

Mrs. Louise W. Mintey of the Van Nuys High School faculty will teach biology. Mr. Jos. B. Nordmann, who will teach chemistry, is from Compton College.

The physical education department has two new members: Miss Jeanne E. Pons, from San Fernando High School, and Mr. Charles W. Mann, who coached at Roosevelt High School in Los Angeles.

Mr. Leonidas H. Paolino, who has been doing graduate work at U.C.L.A., will instruct in biology and zoology.

A new course concerned with radio broadcasting and producing will be given by Miss Frances Cochanides, who comes from Belmont High School.

Mr. Sidney Kessler will teach Humanities. He formerly instructed at Los Angeles State College.

The English department gained two members: Mr. Harold L. Woolfan, from Jefferson High School and Mr. Irwin H. Braun, formerly of Louis Pasteur Junior High School.

Economics and political science will be taught by Mr. Harry E. Beck. Mr. Beck comes to Valley from Woodrow Wilson High School.

From the City Schools' Advisement Service comes Mr. William McNelis, who will counsel and have charge of men's job placement in addition to teaching history and psychology.

Mrs. Mary R. Bruick, who has been with the Merchandising Institute sponsored by the Los Angeles Board of Education, will instruct business classes here. Mrs. Bruick will handle women's job placement.

Knight's Membership Closed

Charles Castiglia, president of the Knights, announced that membership in the organization is closed for the semester. However, applications will again be accepted after the first ten weeks. Admission is by vote of the entire membership and will depend upon good scholarship.

ADAMS FIRST IN LIBRARIAN EXAM

"As I keep telling my Spanish students," says Miss June Adams, "it pays to study." She knows—having just been informed, that she tops the list of those who took the city school examination for junior college librarian for which she studied during most of her Christmas vacation.

The test consisted of a two hours written examination, followed by two oral interviews, one before the committee on training and experience and the other before a committee which passes on personal qualifications.

Miss Adams helped to organize the Valley College library and audio-visual program last semester. She hopes to have the library ready for service at the beginning of this term.

Frosh Males Meet Giordano, Coaches

Following the assembly last Tuesday, the AMS held an informal meeting to acquaint the new men students with their AMS president, Nick Giordano, and the college's three coaches: Mr. Ben McFarland, Mr. Ernie Johnson and Mr. Charles Mann.

Coach Ben McFarland explained the eligibility requirements for athletic participation.

Coach Ernie Johnson spoke on the urgency of maintaining good scholastic records for those who wished to attain a sport's career. He also pointed out the enthusiasm Valley has displayed in the past and the essentiality of school spirit.

Bulletin

The Planning Commission has approved the acquisition and conditional use of the 145 acre site bounded by Burbank Blvd., Fulton Ave., Oxnard Ave. and Coldwater Canyon for the new Valley College campus.

Valley Welcomes You

Welcome, Newcomers! As you enter Valley College, you will perhaps be inclined to ask (as we did) "Where is it, and what is it?"

These few buildings are no true indication of the college itself. Within these bungalows, you will meet the friendliest administration, faculty and student body to be found anywhere. You will be offered a well-rounded schedule, planned to meet your needs as you prepare to face the challenge of the modern world in business, culture and technical life. You will have capable instructors and adequate opportunity for preparation and practice.

You are being given a proud name and an equally distinctive heritage of traditions. We students of Valley have chosen to be called Monarchs, not alone for what we are, but also for what we are to become.

It is true that we have faced inconveniences and inadequate facilities, but these have been outweighed by the joy of fellowship and the thrill of accomplishment we have known. We are proud, too, of the record made by our athletes, who have won several basketball games during their first season. We have clung to the tradition of good sportsmanship and high idealism throughout our short life.

This is VALLEY and the heritage which we would share with you. Accept our hand of fellowship and know that you are welcome. As weeks fade into months, and the strangeness wears off, we trust that you will come to cherish this college which we are building. May you experience the friendliness we have known and thrill to the opportunity for service and scholarly training in the American tradition.

We would share with you our dreams . . . dreams of the huge campus, athletic plant, stadium, modern classrooms and equipment that will some day be ours. You are a part of us now, and we are looking forward to the expanding horizons which are a part of growth.

VALLEY'S DIRECTORS—THE VALLEY STAR brings you a greeting from each of the three college directors: Mrs. Nena Royer, assistant director, on the left; Dr. Vierling Kersey, director, in the center; and Mr. Walter Coultas, assistant director on the right.

By Mrs. Nena Royer

I am sure you will find all "Pioneers" including students and faculty friendly and ready to help you become an active part of the congenial group on "Our Campus."

Participation in associated students' activities will give you opportunities of friendly cooperation with others, enriched group experience and leadership, coveted rewards not gained by sitting on the side lines. Your days will be happy and full, but the good you derive here will depend greatly on the character of the activities to which you devote your energy and time.

By Dr. Vierling Kersey

We greet you and are sincerely happy that you are joining us. Life at Valley Junior College is interesting, intimate, serious, busy and delightfully friendly.

Everyone at our College means business. Our athletic, social, recreational and entertainment features are increasing constantly.

We have a personal interest in your success. Your success is the measure of the success of the College. Let us serve you in the same spirit that we welcome you.

In behalf of the faculty and administrators, we are extending our sincere good wishes. Let's get acquainted!

By Mr. Walter Coultas

It is always a pleasure to welcome new students to our college, and it is also a pleasure to say, "We are happy to see you back," to our former students. As our college grows, we are continually seeking new means of enriching our program, academically and socially, so as to make your experiences here as worthwhile as possible.

We, the students and the faculty, are proud of the humble accomplishments of the past semester, and with our increased enrollment and enlarged faculty we anticipate even greater accomplishments in the semester ahead.

THE NEXT MILE

By DR. VIERLING KERSEY

(Editor's Note: THE VALLEY STAR brings you a message from Director Vierling Kersey.)

We ran a wonderful first mile at Valley Junior College. We now begin our next mile.

Let us take a look at our position for the take-off.

Seven more classrooms including a basketball pavilion of modest facilities are starting.

Our new site which will amount to more than one hundred acres is being purchased.

Much scientific and technical equipment and material has been supplied.

Twelve new full-time members have been added to our faculty. An evening extension program is operating.

Most significant of all the new and added attainments at the College is the total enrollment of new and former students now numbering in all 705, with more coming.

With these developments have come, as well, the new courses, the advanced offerings, and the improved services. Since these are all for you, the students, let us examine them.

First — our friendly personal interest, our happy spirit of relationship between college and student are being given real advancement.

Mr. Prismon, in addition to his instruction program, will be in charge of veterans' advisement. He will develop and administer a program of student scholarships now developing. Mr. Prismon will be responsible for a developing plan for student loans. All follow-up on student attendance problems will be in the hands of Mr. Prismon. He will be located by calling at the office of the College.

Dr. Dodson, in addition to his instruction program, will perform such duties as are usually attached to the office of registration. Transcripts will be supplied students by Dr. Dodson. All questions concerning entrance requirements, deficiencies, and make up will be cleared by Dr. Dodson.

Second, our pride in acquaintance with each student and the problems of the student cause us to enthusiastically announce the appointment of Mr. McNelis. He will serve as counselor in addition to serving as an instructor. The counseling activities of each individual instructor will be in keeping with a well organized plan which Mr. McNelis will supervise.

Third, job placement for full and part-time work is being developed. Mrs. Mary Bruick and Mr. McNelis will contact employers, develop placement, coordinate training and job activity. This will be one of the best services in the valley and of course will be for Valley College pupils first.

Fourth, study problems confront every college student. How to study and learn, what plans to follow in the organization of out-of-class study activity are issues with every learner. Miss Adams, in addition to her instruction assignment, will conduct a study clinic. Other instructors will assist Miss Adams. All students who have problems in this area of college life will find indispensable help available in accord with a program which Miss Adams will announce and conduct.

Again we say—a college education is a lot of things. It is the classroom study and learning program. It is acquaintance with fine personalities—students and instructors. It is campus life. Campus life is fellowship, activity, sports, social relationships and just plain visiting and knowing other people who are quite as fine as yourself.

NOTICE

College students who ordered pictures of the Christmas dance from Pallette Studio are urged to call for them.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: That fireball, Chuck Moran, lost no time in answering the editorial which appeared in the last issue of the Valley Star. We are printing his letter and invite your comments.)

Dear Editor,

Talking about getting on the bandwagon — that's something I've had in mind for a long time!

As everyone knows, we urgently need a band for our song leaders. It's very embarrassing for me to ask those girls to go out there, after they've worked so hard, and lead a song when nobody can carry a tune.

We have even considered inviting the Valley High School bands to play at our games, but students opposed this suggestion and asked why we couldn't have our own college band.

That's when I started scouting around for talent and found many student musicians eager to participate. Those I refer to are: Dick Socolofsky on the trumpet, Jim Pollack on the drums, Johnny Duncan on the sax and yours truly on the trombone or tuba.

As Mr. Caliguiri says, we need a clarinet, another trumpet and either a trombone or tuba.

Anyone who would like to get on the bandwagon and help us build our school spirit should see me.

If you can play these instruments, or know anyone who can, come to me so we can start the band wagon to rolling.

Your elected Yell King,
Chuck Moran.

Orchestra, Band

Tuesdays and Thursdays during the sixth period. It is a one unit course in which will be offered arrangements varying all the way from pre-classical to Fred Waring. Mr. Caliguiri emphasizes that this group is designed for fun. "I want everyone taking this choral work to enjoy it as much as I expect to," he remarked.

Mr. Caliguiri also announced that there will be a program of classics every Thursday at noon in the music room. The recordings will follow the pattern of the music appreciation course, but all students are invited to drop in, says Mr. Caliguiri.

NEW COACH—The Monarchs' new track coach, Mr. Charles W. Mann, telling a Roosevelt High School football player how to win the game. Coach Mann comes from Roosevelt.

Valley Receives New Track Coach, Former Star Athlete At Purdue U.

Mr. Charles W. Mann is Valley's new track coach. This past season Coach Mann, as line coach, helped bring the Roosevelt High School football team out of the slump they have been in for several years. Last semester was his first at Roosevelt.

Roosevelt High's hard hitting line this past season may be credited largely to the coaching of Mr. Mann.

Coach Mann was a four year letterman at Purdue University, where he played end position on the varsity squad.

Mr. Mann is new to the Los Angeles School system. Most of his coaching was done at Reedley Junior College near Fresno, where he coached football and track.

Mr. Mann was also a physical education instructor at U.C.L.A. for two years, while he attended the University on a Fellowship to get his Master's degree.

Coaches Ernest Johnson and Ben McFarland are very happy about Mr. Mann's appointment to Valley. Coach Johnson said of our new physical education instructor, "We are very glad to have Mr. Mann as a member of the physical education department. He is well versed in all athletics, well-liked by all associates and a very sincere and hard worker."

Mr. McFarland said, "He has an all around experience in major sports and will fit well into the Valley College faculty."

Delta—"Could I bum a cigarette?"

Alpha—"You should be able to, you've had enough practice."

VJC Net Busters Gain Power As Prep Star Enters

Tennis stock here at Valley soared when Wendell Niles, star North Hollywood High School racket man, decided to enroll for spring semester. Niles, first man for the Huskies last year, was undefeated in Valley league play.

Other good men who will wear the green and gold include Dave Summers, two year letterman from Canoga Park High, Ed Neville, Dave Pekus and Kramer James. Dave is also one of the Valley's casaba stalwarts. Big Ed Neville lettered at the West Valley institution two years ago and then spent a little time at Laverne College where he again wielded the strong stick.

Most of Valley's casaba supporters will recognize little Davey Pekus. This fellow has been showing up well in the forward slot and is just as good when it comes to swinging the racket. Davey lettered at Van Nuys High where he was first man on the squad.

SMCC, ELA Wallop Valley; Clean Aggies

Paced by Gordon Hein's 24 point effort, Santa Monica C. C. rolled to an easy 82-43 victory over Valley Jan. 21 in the Van Nuys High school gym.

Hein, former All-City sensation from Canoga Park, racked up his impressive point total on 11 field goals and two charity tosses—the second time this season he had amassed 24 points against Valley's quintet.

Bob Hungerford and Otto Vaughn shared runners up honors with 17 and 15 points, respectively.

The main dent in Valley's unimpressive 43 point total was supplied by two subs — Dave Summers and Everett Moore—who each found the range for nine points. Summers also displayed a fine floor game and is a fast-improving performer.

Billy Reed and Whitey Reaves, two fine guards, each came through with seven apiece to round out the locals chief scoring performances.

E.L.A.J.C.-Valley

Valley had the upset of the season in its grasp at the halftime of the E.L.A.J.C.-Valley J.C. contest as the Monarchs raced to a 23-20 edge over the feared Huskies at intermission. E.L.A. came back strong in the second half, however, and slapped at 57-48 defeat on the Green and Gold.

Utilizing the fast break, Everett Moore laid in fourteen points for high point honors. Next in line for Valley came the one-two scoring guard combination of Reaves and Reed—each good for ten points.

Schwarz and Helmer divided scoring honors for E.L.A. as they each arched thirteen good ones through the netting.

The game was closer than the score would indicate as Valley failed to capitalize on free throw opportunities. Out of 21 charity tosses, only Reaves and Reid found the range—and Reaves must have missed 5 himself.

Pierce-Valley

Back in their own class once again, Valley found it easy pickings to pour 54 points through the hoops while limiting the Aggies to 38, taking their second straight from the hapless farmers.

Billy Wells, Ian Gregory and Whitey Reaves proved to be a high scoring trio as each broke loose for an even dozen counters.

Lanky Jack Newton again showed the way to his Brahma teammates, swishing 11 points worth through the hoops to lead his team in scoring against the Monarchs for the second time this season.

By Garth Myers

Tonight at 8, at Harbor J. C. Valley's casaba boys tackle a fairly strong Harbor J.C. outfit.

Harbor boasts a 1-4 Metro Conference record, their only win coming at the expense of the Bay City boys, the Santa Monica City College Corsairs. They eked out a tight 56-54 decision over the team that hopped Valley twice, once by the lopsided score of 83-42. Harbor will probably be the favorite due to their win over Santa Monica, but the Monarchs should be primed to win this one; because, if they do, they will be racking up their first conference win of the season.

Sports Down Pat

By PAT FLAHERTY

Many of the spring transfers to Valley College undoubtedly are interested in the athletic outlook for the new semester, and, at the same time, probably are wondering about the athletic history of this young institution. I hope this column can answer many of your questions.

Due to poor facilities and lack of equipment, Valley did not field a football team this year. Valley will field an eleven next year, however, and will be a member of the Metropolitan Conference.

We were able to floor a basketball team this year, and with Coach Ben McFarland at the helm the Monarchs have enjoyed a fairly successful season. You will have a chance to witness our quintet in action as there are still some games to be played this semester. The team is not a member of any conference or league.

Good Future

The outlook for the spring semester is encouraging. Valley has received the status of members in the Metropolitan Conference and will participate as such in baseball, tennis and track.

Coach Ben McFarland will handle the tennis team, and Coach Ernest Johnson will mentor the horsehiders in the coming semester. Coach Charles Mann has been assigned to track.

If you are interested in participating for Valley in any of the above mentioned sports, contact either Coach McFarland or Coach Johnson, and they will furnish you with the particulars.

Valley is your school now. Green and gold are your colors. Support your school in all its endeavors—both scholastic and athletic—in the coming semester.

Lose To Bakersfield

Last week Valley was invaded by the Renegades from Bakersfield, and the northerners ran off with a 61-51 win. A big gun for the Noblemen was Bob "Whitey" Reaves. Not only did he play a terrific game at his guard position, he also tanked six baskets and six free throws for 18 points and the evening's high point honors. Big Ed Austin showed up well dropping in twelve points for the cause. Willie opened at center for the Monarchs. Also standing out for the Valleyites was Billy Reed, who dropped in eight counters, all in the second half, and played a terrific game at his rebounding post.

Dead as the proverbial doorknob were forwards Bill Wells and Ian Gregory. Billy missed several setups and in general his shots came fairly close but not quite through. Gregory fouled out late in the last half after scoring two points.

Early Lead

Bakersfield built up an early lead which they never relinquished, with Riley dropping in long shots and Kirkland dribbling in for setups. Husky Kirkland dribbled the entire length of the court for baskets several times during the course of the evening. Reaves, Austin and Pekus kept the Monarch fire burning during the first half, as they matched the Renegades' basket for basket until the Bakers started dropping them from all angles. The Monarchs' zone defense wasn't working too well; and, if it hadn't been for several of the boys being hot, the score would have been much more lopsided. One place Valley did shine was in the free throw department. The boys sank thirteen out of twenty for 65%. Reaves sank six out of ten, as he seemed to be the target for most of the personals.

Semester Ends With Final Fling; Starr Band Plays

Dancing to the music of Ernie Starr and his orchestra, the Monarchs attended the last social event of the pioneer semester, The Final Fling, which was co-sponsored by the AWS and AMS, January 25.

Pat Brumgard and the members of her decoration committee created a festive atmosphere with balloons, crepe paper and posters. George Berger displayed his prowess behind the coke bar. Tom Muse acted as emcee.

When the last of the balloons were popped and the final bar of music was played, Mrs. Royer, Mr. Johnson, George Berger, and Mike Seeger remained at the Van Nuys Women's Club to man the brooms and return the hall to its original condition.

All women in activity classes must purchase and wear the regular Valley green gym shorts. These can be purchased from the student store for $2.85.

Jim Quick And Carol Saunders Exchange Vows

James Quick, prominent Valley College athlete, was married to Carol Ann Saunders at a colorful home ceremony on January 13. The couple will be at home in Van Nuys following a Santa Barbara honeymoon.

White gladioli, chrysanthemums and ivy were featured in the decorations. The bride's table, covered with linen and lace, was trimmed with lighted candles in ivy-twined candlesticks. The tiered cake was served to fifty guests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Quick are graduates of Van Nuys High School. James was an Ephebian honor graduate in 1947.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and net with net stole and matching veil held by an orange blossom halo. She carried a white satin prayer book with a small shower of white gladioli and bouvardia.

RELEASE FOR VETERANS

Mr. Donald Prismon releases the following announcement from the veteran's administration: "To receive full subsistence, single veterans are entitled to $210 earnings, including the $75 subsistence pay; man with wife, $270 including $105 subsistence; and wife and one or more children $290 including $120 subsistence."

Knowledge is the antidote to fear.—Emerson.

Three Gaits Plan Spring Activities

A beach party, a baseball game, a barbecue and a dance are just a few of the activities planned for the coming semester by the Three Gaits, the campus riding club.

The first meeting of the new semester will be held on February 8, with Kathy Moore, president, presiding.

Tentatively, in the first week of March, the organization will hold an installation dinner for the benefit of the new members. Membership in the club is open to any student of Valley College interested in horseback riding.

Women's Athletic Association Plan Many Activities

The women's volleyball teams of Valley College are entering the Southern Junior College volleyball tournament at San Bernardino Junior College on Feb. 24. The teams will leave about 11 a. m. and remain for an evening dinner. Members of the teams will be picked from the women's volleyball classes.

A women's softball team will be organized from the W.A.A. softball class. The team will compete in the junior college softball tournament.

Miss Helen Mindlin, girls' athletic sponsor, states that there are three ways to get W.A.A. credit: badminton, bowling or softball. All these activities are conducted as regular classes instead of after school. Bowling continues to be one of the most popular sports, with three classes being offered this term, one class for women only, one for men and one co-educational.

For they can conquer who believe they can.—Dryden.

AWS Gives Tea For New Women

New women were greeted by Joan Haas and members of the A.W.S. at an enrollment day tea in the Social Hall. Patricia Mulholland and Diane Murphy poured.

After refreshments, Miss Haas introduced her cabinet, Miss Helen Mindlin, sponsor, and Mrs. Nena Royer, women's counselor.

Nancy Ohms sang "Embraceable You" and "Begin the Beguine." A newcomer, Josephine Thompson, whistled "Glow Worm." Both were accompanied by Judy Newhoff. Beverly Zanoline gave the reading "Sixteen."

Joyce Morgan, AWS social chairman, listed the activities for the new semester; Shirley Byles, tentative WAA representative, stressed the need for entering athletic events open to women students.
